Truth is my Compass, & Wisdom my Helm.

*once you know,

Say Less

The sociopolitical traitors who seize our attention, are celebrated as they turn our trailblazers
into their poached mascot.

The masses tithe their idolatry to the tokenized figureheads who are selected and vetted
by the institutions drilling into our spine.

I don't have enough nickels to make a dime, but as I traverse the tides of maritime amidst this decayed paradigm, I'm that goat
who only knew to climb.

Decolonial Q+A #013

Why does the Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organization enterprise between the nation-state, corporation, and banking system appear immune to legal intervention?

Because Democracy is legalized theater that coerces consent as citizens of a nation where our survivability as dispossessed people mandates our labor, which becomes the vector for profit.

Priestess Hobbies

I turn circus laughter into a choir.

I conduct reflexive parasitism into verses that misfire.

The Devil is a liar,

Mayday Beacon

The womb is a satellite.

You maidens need to upgrade your reception.

You needn't fear the expansion of light.

Disrobe cognitive dissonance
as your contraception.

Jailbreak Schematics

The nation-state is the administrative delegate of corporate enslavement.

Citizenship is a civil category
for economic incarceration.

If the nation-state enables corporate genocide and simultaneously requires its funding to maintain jurisdictional enforcement, why would this codependent symbiotic relationship dissolve?

Therefore, revolution is the ultimatum we must grasp to ensure our collective future.

Moreover, you do not argue or plead with a psychopath.
You starve, mirror, and play dead.

Separatism, consumerism, and social caste systems deter our embodied resistance.

Violence is sugar to these parasites.

It enables the weaponization of reactionary abuse, which grants a pretext for escalatory state violence.

These matters are subjective and the application is context-based.

Every tool has its place—
every tool.

“Avoidance

Baited Denial

When incentive designs motive, impact becomes probabilistic renders intent irrelevant.

Prescription Lenses

i. Optimization is a tool of colonization that maintains destabilization for sustained economic domination.

ii. Everybody wants an upgraded phone or laptop, but I'm running an unlocked device. We call it neurodivergence. My operating system is coded on infinity and beyond.

iii. I'm reading bloodlines like tea leaves, the proof is in the pattern.

iv. The womb is the generator of quantum currency, and through the delineation of mitochondria, blood bears frequency.

v. Capitalism inverted the comprehension of nature's hierarchy through patriarchy, as a systematized coup d'état of matricide.

Molly is My Witness

*Only the sentient can wail because their blood has survived hailstorms their ancestors were certain would break their bloodline
by the grail.*

When the neuroscientist said she was a peacekeeper in the Congo, during a period of genocide, when children often died before the age of five, I already knew I was watching a sadistic voyeur. The absence of affect in her cadence was sociopathic. Her wandering eyes alluded to boredom, and her tangent about performing a hypothetical research project on wailing that included rats and worms, when the discussion on wailing centered on the Black experience, rendered the eugenic vibe in high resolution.

I understand that Black Trauma and its rumination are an hors d'oeuvre for the white necrophilist. Lynching Picnics are now panel discussions with food served, with the occasional wine after the event. I believe niggas are present for the accounting budget line, purely for tax purposes.

What worries me most is the effect of the cumulative allostatic load on the nervous system of the Black bodies who are being exploited for the performativity of white cannibalistic entertainment. I'm deeply concerned about the ancestral feedback loop of dissociation that is sustained in those Black Bodies to be in those white necrophilic spaces. The tremendous psychic toll of colonial self-regulation required to be in proximity to these nefarious entities is antigenic—somatically, psychologically, and intellectually.

Molly is my witness.

She and I were talking, appreciating the similarities between Italians and Jews. She expressed surprise that I, a hyper-visibly and richly melanated Black woman, would be privy to such observations. Amidst this pleasant exchange of rapport, two vultures, who wore white skin, became impelled to touch an item in my bag and interrogate me.

As the true somatic scientist that I am, I chose to read the oddity of these entities. Molly, who attempted to de-escalate their racially aggressive intrusion, stated, “I thought it was a cool umbrella.”

As the conversation progressed, it became clear that these two white parasitic beings were policing the vibrance of my melanin. With clear, direct, and nonverbal communication, I thanked Molly for her time and dismissed these fucking rodents.

A lot of bitches won't know what it means to wail because you're not alive. Many of us who haven't wailed end up in jail. And if we don't end up in jail, we're gonna see who makes it to the grave first.

Agape Muthaphukka.

Decolonial Q+A #012

When control is disguised as care,
how can you decrypt the tactic?

a. Identify the threshold for asserted boundaries. b. Observe whether the mechanisms to elicit consent shift to neutralize or dismiss your clarity. c. Do you feel patronized, handled, or treated as difficult?

Weakest Link

Tokenized representation is a placebo reparation that exploits the structurally perpetuated disenfranchisement by inserting a guard dog that is extraordinarily eager to protect their status and its claim to the materialized AmeriKKKan Dream Propaganda.

For imperial renovations, this technique is both affordable and highly reproducible, whilst pacifying structural indictments with trivial placation.

Decolonial Q+A #011

How can an ideology mimic
a transmitted infection?

When ideology compromises the integrity and immunity that support self-accountability, resilience, independence, and self-initiated repair for sustainable regulation within a homeostatic social ecosystem.

Hegemony manufactures an Systemic neglect cultivates scarcity for social control, which produces survival-

When food, housing, and employment are inaccessible, stealing becomes a natural course of action.

Incentive-based coordination and constraint-based entrapment are functionally equivalent systems of behavioral manipulation.

Distortion creates dissociations:

Hypergamy caters to sociopathic men.

How many Chads murder their wives spiritually and, on occasion, physically?

Racism distorts the shared economic and political oppression we collectively experience.

If your colonially stratified position of social domination pacifies your instinct for species preservation, you are existentially compromised.

How do Section 8 housing and Medicaid health insurance benefit realtors and pharmaceutical companies?

For whom do we

Fugitive Stratagem

I have no sugar in my cupboard, but I understand that water may become scarce. Therefore, I invite you to survey this premise:

If white patriarchy were a bridge, white women are...

...the support beams running parallel to the roadway. Remove them, and the bridge wobbles, becomes unstable, and eventually unsafe.

If white patriarchy were the architectural scaffolding of a

...the vertical braces and crossbars that stabilize the framework during construction. Without them, the building risks collapse or being reshaped entirely.

If white patriarchy were an electric grid, white women are...

...the transformers and relay stations that regulate voltage and direction of flow. Disconnect them, and the grid overloads or blackouts occur.

If white patriarchy were a ship, white women are...

...the ballast and keel that keep the vessel upright and steady. Without them, the ship tilts or capsizes in even modest waves.

If white patriarchy were a tree, white women are...

...the root system that anchors the trunk. You can see the tree above, but its stability comes from the hidden network below. Remove the roots, and the trunk topples.

If white patriarchy were a theater production, white women are...

...the stage crew and riggers who ensure the sets stay in place and the lighting hits the right cues. The actors may perform, but without them, the entire scene can fall apart.

If white patriarchy were a river system, white women are...

...the levees and dams controlling flow and direction. Redirect them, and the water overflows, reshaping the landscape entirely.

If white patriarchy were a computer network, white women are...

...the firewalls and routers maintaining order and permissions. Disable them, and the system becomes chaotic, vulnerable, and unpredictable.

Many of us do not know the tongues spoken to the soil from which our ancestors marked time.

We have been scattered and uprooted, and orphaned from the winds from which we hail.

We needn't run, but we must burrow. It is in this timeline that we take our stand. There is no commander, there is no leader, there is no one to whom you must capitulate.

We have our neighbor, we have the bystander, we have the seatmate on the train or the bus. We become the authors of our collective emancipation. There is no copywriter. There is no guru.

There is only the coherence of resonance that will light the wick within every awakened soul. Clarity will be the breeze that feeds the wildfire, that clears the static so we may seed time for a season of realignment.

I fundamentally understand that manipulation can stain a person's interiority with projected antipathy. I couldn't fathom being a white woman managing patriarchy with the concessional treat of racial cannibalism, to realize that the melanated male enslaved chattel person would be entitled to the right to vote over a white woman.

That's diabolical. Unless we understand that we are all pieces on a chessboard, where the wizard is playing us against each other in the prison of Oz. The extreme virality of relational trauma I have experienced has been the source of disillusionment, and I recognize that a lot of people are sustaining acute schizophrenia that is palatable because the collective psyche is overtly dysregulated.

Maybe I swallowed the philosopher's stone, but from an energetic perspective, maintaining entropy is extremely resource-intensive. Ironically, love, grace, and joy are generative, affordable, and sustainable. Our nervous system is under a multifactorial assault, and I believe we should collectively discuss managing our cortisol levels because our depletion in self-regulation predisposes us to an impaired immune system, which is a perverse vulnerability while the world becomes most spooky.

We, temporal sharecroppers, are in a protracted hostage dynamic with state and corporate systems that enact procedural dispossession, which is maintained by the entertainment of decontextualized, dissociative autopsies of past ruminations.

It would be of critical interest for us to discern that education may in fact be a weapon for psychic sedation, and we ought not conflate indoctrination with edification. Although it may seem nuanced, cognitive dissonance makes logicity seem controversial.
